ORDER

The Agency for International Development terminated for the convenience of the Government a contract with Lakeshore Engineering Services, Inc. for the renovation of a dormitory and construction of a dining facility in Afghanistan. The contractor submitted a termination for convenience settlement proposal. When the agency did not act on that proposal, the contractor resubmitted it as a certified claim in the amount of $600,202. Subsequently, the contractor appealed to the Board from the agency's deemed denial of the claim.

The parties have now settled the case. The agency has paid to the contractor $494,571, inclusive of interest, and the parties have asked the Board to dismiss the case with prejudice to its reinstatement.

Accordingly, the case is DISMISSED WITH PREJUDICE.
